MILLER

William, Andrew and John Miller arrived in America from England, about 1660, settling at East Hampton, L.I., New York. Tradition says they came from Maidstone, Kent County, England, about thirty miles from London, but as to anything definite, nothing reliable was found. In 1667 John moved to Cohansy, N.J. on Caesaria River, his brother William settling at Elizabethtown, N.J.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is well-posed and that the solution exists and is unique. The second part of the paper is devoted to the construction of the solution. It is shown that the solution can be constructed by the method of successive approximations. The third part of the paper is devoted to the numerical solution of the problem. It is shown that the numerical solution can be obtained by the method of finite differences.

CHAPTER 3

IV. NOAH MILLER

was born at Hopewell, N.J., in 1732 and married Mary mills, daughter of Ephriam and Mareschal Mills of Cumberland County N.J. Nov. 16, 1762, and moved soon after to Coveket, Nova Scotia, where he resided until after the beginning of the Revolutionary War. It is not definitely known when he moved from New Jersey to Nova Scotia, but since his son Ephriam was born in Nova Scotia Oct. 12, 1764, it must have been the date of his marriage in New Jersey, and the birth date of his son Ephriam.

Because of his Whig principles and refusal to sign the oath of allegiance to the royal government, he was obliged to leave the province. With difficulty and in company with a Mr. Knight and some others he made his way to a place called Canaan, in the present site of Lincolnville, Waldo Co., Maine. He found himself cut off from all resources excepting those the woods and water afforded. Having long subsisted on flesh and fish alone, and having previously sold many of her best atticles, his wife reluctantly consented to part with her shoe buckles, the precious gift of a distant friend, which cost _____, and with these the husband walked to Owl's Head, about six miles from where Rockland now is, and was glad there to obtain three pecks of corn, which, after being ground, he carried home on his back.

In the Rockland library in "Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolution War," archives of Mass., Vol 10, page 769, may be found the following entry. "Noah Miller, private, Sergeant Thomas Knight's Scouting part, raised by order of Gen. Peleg Wadsworth to scout from head of St. Geroge's River to Belfast and Penobscot River; enlisted Sept. 19, 1780; service two months. Roll certified at Falmouth (now Portland).

Noah and Mary (Mills) Miller were the parents of ten children, as follows:

1. Oliver, born 1762, baptized 1771, aged nine years, drowned in Lincolnville pond, 1790.
2. Mary, drowned at same time with Oliver.
3. Ephriam, born in Nova Scotia, Oct. 12, 1764, married Mary Heald Barker's Island
4. Samuel, married Grace Hall, born ca 1769
5. Noah, 3rd, born in Nova Scotia in 1773, married Lucy Mahoney.
6. Israel, married Nancy Gould, of Bath Me.

7. Hope Mareschal, April 30, 1779, married Joseph Gould of Bath Me.
8. (Deacon) John, born Nov. 16, 1781, married Margaret Robinson of St. George, first, and a Mrs. Vaughn second.
9. Joel, born July 3rd, 1784, married Elizabeth Robinson.
10. Louvice, born Jan. 3, 1788, married Dr. C. C. Chandler.

V. NOAH MILLER

was born in Nova Scotia, Jan. 1773, died ca 1840, and is buried at Lincolnville, Me. He married Lucy Mahoney, daughter of James and Abigail Mahoney, who was born at Georgetown, Prince Edwards Island, Feb. 14, 1772. In 1814 they lived in the town of Northport on the west coast of Penobscot Bay. He served in the War of 1812 as a Major of the 2nd Regiment (Ulmer's) Massachusetts Militia. (Maine was then a part of Mass.) He served from Sept. 3, 1814 to Sept. 21, 1814. Proof that he was decidedly active while in service may be found in Reul Robinson's history of "Old Camden and Rockport," and also in Williamson's "History of Maine," Vol 2, page 643.

They had seven children, all born at Lincolnville, Me

1. Thomas, born Sept. 16, 1793.
